November 2023

Your Excellency,

Mrs. Narges Mohammadi, laureate of the Nobel Peace Prize 2023, unjustly imprisoned at Evin Prison, Iran, has the 30th of October been denied medical examination and help outside of prison.

Mrs. Mohammadi needed a CT scan of her lungs and echo of her heart, both caused by potential serious medical conditions.

Like thousands of Iranian women Narges Mohammadi has protested the compulsory hijab. Denying wearing it was reason why she couldn't be brought to hospital yesterday.

How can this be possible?

We must protest loudly against such cruelty and inhumanity - and ask You urgently and immediately to secure Narges Mohammadi and her fellow prisoners all medical help needed.

Medical treatment is a human right as well as the right of a life in freedom. It is Your responsibility that prisoners are treated well and remain healthy while imprisoned.

Women – and men of Iran demands freedom and human rights, and we ask You to listen.

Yours sincerely
